

Environmental Initiatives

Maruishi Pharmaceutical, as a company that contributes to the development of medical care and the improvement of health and welfare, will work to conserve the global environment in all business activities to realize a sustainable society.

Environmental Policies

1. We will promote initiatives such as energy and resource conservation, waste reduction, and proper management of chemical substances to reduce environmental impact through business activities.
2. We will aim to conduct environmentally friendly research, development and improvement of products.
3. We will strive to use resources efficiently in product manufacturing, considering the environmental impact of manufacturing activities.
4. We will comply with environmental laws, regulations and social norms.
5. We will raise environmental awareness and enhance environmental ethics among employees, and will encourage them to actively engage in environmental conservation.
